Enterprising Young Orindans Open Store for Benefit of Polio Fund

"Used comic books — 5c each.
Grape or orange punch — 5c glass.
Vanilla wafers — 2 for 1c. Cookies — 1 for 1c.

This is the sign posted by two enterprising young Orinda merchants as they opened their 'store' on a recent Friday in front of Hiene's Barber shop at Orinda Crossroads.

About 9 o'clock Friday morning Don March and George Navone set up the fixtures — two orange boxes and a wooden top to make a table — and were open for business. One thing they made certain — the street would not be cluttered with empty cups, for they brought along some empty cartons for waste paper.

BUSINESS GOOD

Business was good from the very start. Their first customer bought 3 comic books and gave them a dollar. And as the day grew from warm to hot, they had no difficulty selling their bottles of punch.

They, too, felt the pinch of high prices. Don explained they wanted to sell both vanilla wafers and chocolate cookies two for a penny, but the price of chocolate cookies was "awfully high."

Now we called these two fellows "merchants," when actually this is a misnomer. In crayon on their sign the purpose of the business was clearly stated:

"PLEASE HELP FIGHT POLIO"

Yes, this was Don and George's answer to the threatened polio epidemic in the area. All proceeds go to the March of Dimes committee.

OTHERS TOO

And they weren't the only ones in benefit business. Down Moraga Highway in front of Black's Market were three very business-like young men — Walter Bumgarner, Gary Biederman and Gary Lucas.

Although their stand wasn't as elaborate, the trio's stock was larger as they offered all flavors of punch. And they had a method of fighting inflation — 5c for small glasses, 10c for large ones.

AT PARK POOL

The day before they started their business at the Orinda Park Pool, but decided to make more money for the infantile paralysis fund from week-end grocery shoppers.

Another group in the business included Peggy Meyer, Bill Broderick and Douglas Allinger. And yet another was set up by John Speigl, who had polio two years ago, Skipper Savage, Georgianne Watkins, Jim Watkins, Mark Littlejohn, Laird Eickmeyer and Bruce Jackson.

The hours were long, the day was hot and it would have been lots more fun going swimming. But Orinda's younger generation had a duty to perform — and they stuck it out until all their stock was sold.

Interpool Races, Officer Election Held at Orinda Park Pool Sunday

Sunday was a big day at the Orinda Park Pool with interpool races, presentation of medals, community supper and treasure hunt and an annual meeting taking place during the day and evening.

At least 400 people were present to witness the swimming accomplishments of members after a summer's practice under the guidance of Coach Don Bell.

ANNUAL MEETING

After the community dinner at 5:30, the annual meeting was held. In the absence of President Delbert Thompson, Glen Holtwick presided.

New members on the Pool Board nominated and elected by unanimous vote were Pat Train, Mrs. Doris Collins, Fred Von Guenther and George Matey.

Outgoing board members are Thompson, president; Norman Green, treasurer; Jim Brown, maintenance; and Mrs. William Courtwright, entertainment. Newly elected members will be assigned their specific jobs in the future.

Members still serving on the board are Mrs. Peg Winters, publicity; Mrs. Beale Minor, Glen Holtwick, Wayne Littlejohn, Mrs. Henry Moller, and Charles Ward.

TREASURE HUNT

The treasure hunt following the dinner turned out to be a howling success with the group divided in three teams — adults, boys, and girls. Don Bell and Mrs. William Courtwright worked out the clues. Candy bars went to the winning team, the adults.

Silver medals for the year's swimming records were presented during the afternoon. Those receiving medals for freestyle were Mark Littlejohn, Sherry Elder, Val Montague, Georgianne Watkins, Johnny Speigl, Rae Littlejohn, Jerry Vurek, Jim Jacobus, Ann Ward, Carola Courtwright, Dick Symes, Wayne La Velle and Mary Frances Hafner.

'Stop..Go Forward..Back' Ingenious New Device Getting Started Here

By PATSY TRIMBLE

The latest laurel wreath on Lafayette's business brow may well be worn by the forerunner of a large and flourishing enterprise.

Already local toy train hobbyists are bubbling over about the new Electronic Voice Control set which makes a miniature choo-choo respond to its master's voice like a well trained seal.

Best of all for Lafayette, exclusive distribution headquarters is at Harold's Craft Shop. As a matter of fact Harold Bloom, co-owner of the shop, released the trial series of 100 Voice Control sets through his Lafayette store last Christmas and the entire run sold out in three days.

WHAT IS IT?

This ingenious gadget consists of a control box and special microphone which can be held in the palm of one hand, all fitted compactly in streamlined black plastic cases. No new equipment is needed to use the set, as it hooks up to any remote control train—Lionel, Marx, American Flyer, etc.

All the operator does is speak his instructions into the mike: "stop", "go forward", "back" or any combination of these, and the miniature choo-choo whizzes off to comply. A twist of the wrist turns the train back to regular transformer operation when desired.

THE INVENTOR

Credit for inventing the Voice Control set goes to Ray DeVault, young Oakland electronic engineer, who figured it out while serving on Guam as a radar technician. He intended to give his son the set as a Christmas surprise. When DeVault returned, he and Bloom became acquainted and the latter in turn was introduced to the new unit.

Being in the toy train and hobby equipment business himself, Bloom thought the device too good to be kept private. Together they set up a small company with DeVault handling the technical end and Bloom as exclusive distributor.

Captain Sandford Sez.

I crossed the highway with my wife on horseback at Commercial Street with a green light in our favor. My wife was safely across when the lights changed and a man driving a Packard at considerably more than the legal speed passed between me and the edge of safety which I sought to attain. I yelled to him in French or shall we say "italics". I think he heard and understood. If I could get hold of a bird like that I think I would make a few geographical alterations forthwith.

Business conditions are good for some and bad for others. Such conditions always exist and sometimes the so-called sufferers deserve it.

I met a Canadian farmer and his wife and family. They have been raising wheat on 700 acres in the Peace River District for thirty years. His wife spoke of 70 degrees below zero in winter; and I almost yammered as I thought of 55 degrees below zero I experienced in Winnipeg 35 years ago. These Canadian people have decided to make their home in Lafayette and they are surely enjoying our magnificent climate.

A small boy throwing stones at a pigeon succeeded in winging our neon sign today. The pigeon, a young bird, flew into our office and parked around there in safety for a spell. Finally under mild persuasion the bird was persuaded to depart under his own power.

There will be no war with Russia now.
Good-bye now.

Care of Germany's Displaced Persons Discussed at Women's Guild Meeting

The problems of the United Nations in caring for 12 million displaced persons in Germany were discussed by Miss Muriel Hanson at the Women's Guild meeting Tuesday September 7 at the home of Mrs. Ralph Sisson. Ruth Price led the devotions.

Miss Hanson, sister of Mrs. Lance Barden, is a psychiatric social worker.

"There were more than 12 million displaced persons, but some found their way to their western Europe home by walking there. In all 10 million were repatriated soon after the war. Many could not get home," Miss Hanson said.

"Their own country, Poland for example, could not give them the means for traveling expenses. Russia would not help the Poles to return. Some did not want to return to a Russian-dominated Poland. Jews, Catholics and a few Protestants, whom Germany had taken as forced laborers from Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, did not want to go back.

"Some of the D.P.s put on German farms had not fared too badly. Those who had been compelled to work in the underground airplane and munition factories were the worst off. They were overworked, insufficiently fed, cruelly treated, and seldom could get up in the fresh air. They still lack strength, and all initiative seems gone," Miss Hanson continued.

"Estonians and Latvians fled to Germany when the Russians moved into their country. Many of these were of the intelligentsia. These would be an asset to any country which would receive them."

When Germany went into Poland, the Jews there found asylum in Russia. Later they were not acceptable and fled to Germany. Here they are hated by the Germans. There are only a few D.P.s between the ages of five and fifteen because it had been the practice of the Germans to gas or in other ways kill all children except the babes in arms, the speaker explained.

"Now UNRA is trying to feed all these unhappy undernourished people. Many live in great rooms of military or public buildings with only army blankets to partition one family from another," according to Miss Hanson.

"Food is cooked in huge kettles army style, and is usually soup or potatoes. UNRA provides the police, churches, and schools. Paper for note books is scarce. Recreation and medical care are also provided.

"How long must these displaced persons stay in Germany? Belgium has already taken back 50,000 to work in her coal mines. Canada has flown some back. Paraguay may send for some. Brazil will not receive many for she prefers to have Italians. Argentine is planning to receive some.

The United States, have not ships enough to handle their transportation from Germany. The U. S. agreed to receive one million but has not the facilities to bring them here.

"Priorities are given first to agricultural workers, second to garment workers, and third to skilled technicians and professors," Miss Hanson concluded.

Letters to the Editor

DEAR EDITOR:

Don't the people that live in Moraga Oaks Area, or adjoining properties like their homes, or is it just another place to live? I am fairly new in the community, having moved here the twenty-fifth of May.

I bought this home because I loved the setting, White Oaks, and the lovely Live Oaks all over our grounds. The day we moved in we had the trees sprayed, not knowing too much about such we just realized it is a must to keep away the pests. It doesn't do much good, if only a chosen few care and the rest of the people neglect theirs. Now is the season for those pesky little Oak worms, and they really can eat their way through a healthy oak in two days.

It breaks my heart to see this happening when for very little money we could all protect the natural and rustic beauty that makes Orinda, Orinda. Don't get me wrong, I'm not working for a spraying concern, but purely for the love and interest of my home and community.

Most sincerely,
(Mrs. H. S.) Emily M. Lacey

George Brockhurst's Friend Recalls Days of Buffalo Bill Circus Here

George Brockhurst recently visited his old friend in Berkeley, Jim Kern now 85 years old.

Jim said he remembered when the circus, probably that of Buffalo Bill, went over the Fish Ranch road to Oakland from Martinez.

As it approached, farmers on the roads would whip up to get ahead of the oncoming cavalcade or hastily draw off to a side road for their horses were terrified by the elephants lumbering along on foot! Jim Kern's father's ranch was in the Wild Cat Creek country and extended down to Bear Creek. This land is now the lower part of Tilden Park.

Premiums Await Amateur Florists At Coming Show

More than $2500 in premiums await amateur florists who place exhibits in the Contra Costa County Flower Show September 24-26 in Antioch.

The show will be held in the building and on the premises of the Veterans Memorial Building, under the direction of the Twenty-third District Agricultural Association.

"Amateurs in the county are not known," says Director Harry Nelson. "It is their show, and they should come in regardless of whether someone rings their door bell. We have no mailing list by which they could be reached."

SEEK REPRESENTATION

Director Nelson has spent several days visiting various parts of the county — small towns and rural areas. The effort has been to find at least one woman in every garden club who would take leadership in developing a variety of exhibits in what promises to be one of the most informative and educational enterprises ever offered homeowners and housewives throughout the county.

Already entered from this area are the Garden Section of the Lafayette Forum and the Orchard Nursery.

One hundred of the 160 "sections" in the premium list offer awards ranging from one dollar to one hundred, free from professional competition. In the open division—60 sections with awards ranging up to $300 — amateurs may enter in competition with the experts.

Juveniles also are invited to make displays but there are no cash awards.

PRIZES TO BE GIVEN

Premiums are listed under the headings of "Outdoor Garden Corner", "Floral Arrangements", "Cut Flowers", "Collections or Potted Plants", and in the open division: "Outdoor Garden Corner", "Fuchsias" (in pots not less than six inches in size), "Fuchsias" (not in pots), "Florist Displays and Commercial Cut Flowers", "Bride's Bouquet", "Corsages", "Roses", "Miscellaneous Cut Flowers", and "Hobbies".

For the hobbyist who will display a worthy garden of not less than 200 square feet, $100 is the competitive first prize and $75 the second.

Football Season Opens Here as Dons Face Albany Under Acalanes Lights

The curtain goes up on the local football stage Friday night at 8 p.m. when the Acalanes varsity tackles the Albany High eleven under the lights of the Acalanes gridiron.

The game will be a pre-league toughener for both teams, the Dons starting their push for the Contra Costa County Athletic League championship three weeks later.

Thursday the Don junior varsity met its first opponent of the season, the Mount Diablo Devils, in a game at 3:15 p.m. on the Acalanes field. The following Thursday at the same time and place will bring their second contest, this time with the Alhambra J.V. of Martinez.

The full schedule for both Don squads was released yesterday by Coach Erwin Mattson as follows:

Oct. 22 John Swett at Acalanes.
Oct. 29 Pittsburg at Pittsburg.
Nov. 5 Mount Diablo at Acalanes.
All games at 8 p.m. on Fridays.

JUNIOR VARSITY

BIRTHDAY BARBECUE

Mrs. F. Norman Palmer of Hough Avenue celebrated her birthday last Saturday evening with a barbecue for guests who arrived from Concord, Walnut Creek and Oakland. She received many lovely birthday gifts from her friends.

FROM THE SIDELINES

By Coach Erwin Mattson

Local grid fans will notice a number of changes at Acalanes with the kickoff against Albany High on September 17th.

First off a number of familiar faces and names will be absent with 23 of 27 lettermen gone via the graduation route.

Kern Matlock, Pete Larmer, Guy Stanley and Marvin Lucas are the returning lettermen.

SHIFTING MEN

Matlock has been shifted from a right to left half while Guy Stanley and Marvin Lucas remain at end and tackle respectively with Pete Larmer moving from end to the fullback spot.

Another change will be the appearance of new uniforms including sideline coats.

Jerseys and pants are made of nylon with the latter weighing a meager 12 ounces. Backs of the pants will be of two way stretch elastic which make for a snug appearance and gives less for opposing tackles to grasp.

LONGER JERSEYS

Jerseys are three inches longer than normal in the hope that shirt tails will stay put and consequently not offer an additional target for grasping hands of would be tacklers.

The turf is in top condition and provides an excellent playing surface.

The lights have been improved with the addition of glass covers to the reflectors. Reflecting surfaces are thus kept clean with a resulting greater output of light.

MORE SEATS

Grid addicts will find more fifty yard lines as a result of more seats due to new construction between the permanent bleachers.

In addition to new faces up from the Junior Varsity indications are that there will be several transfer students on the roster.

Ted Fry, formerly of Berkeley High is making a strong bid for a tackle berth and appears to be ready with an educated toe in the conversion department.

Hovering over the six foot mark and with more than two hundred pounds of heft Fry may do much to bolster the losses from last year's line.

Teacher Joins School Staff

One new teacher each has been added to the staffs at Moraga and Canyon Schools.

Mrs. Barbara Davis, Lafayette, will teach primary grades and music at Moraga.

Milton Zemke, Saranap, has taken over the upper grades at Canyon, and LaVon Zemke, who taught this group last year, is now teaching primary classes.

Andfindsens Enjoy Visit of Relatives

Visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Andfindsen of Hough Avenue for a few days this week, was Mrs. Andfindsen's sister, Mrs. A. J. Hall, of Patterson, N. J., and her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dykster of Pueblo, Colorado. The Dyksters are leaving soon to visit Mrs. Andfindsen's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. William Daniels of Riverside, and Mr. and Mrs. Dykster's son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Dykster of Venice, Calif.

Mrs. Hall traveled to Pueblo, Colorado where she joined the Dyksters and all motored to California visiting Yellowstone Park and other points of interest on the way.

Lafayette Scouts Cop League Title

Ripping off easy victories in both games of a play-off series, the Lafayette Boy Scouts recently defeated their Walnut Creek counterparts 16-10 and 17-8 for top honors in the Junior Softball League sponsored by the Walnut Creek Area Chamber of Commerce.

Mike White, Lafayette's captain, is scheduled to receive the pennant winner's trophy September 18 at a ceremony during the all-star softball game at Walnut Creek Park diamond.

Competing against three other teams in the pre-high school league, the Lafayette's racked up five victories against one defeat, plus the two play-off wins, according to their coach, Irwin Cohn.

Jack Leudeman pitched four successful games in regular league play, while Charlie Ostrom throttled Walnut Creek in the first championship fracas and Don McDermott followed suit in the second. Ellie Greub earned top batting average on the team and Mike White made the most runs.

"THIS IS LONG DISTANCE"

How telephone operators route and time your calls

1. Perhaps you've wondered how your long distance calls usually go through so quickly... even to small, far-away places. The routing operator is one reason. A long distance operator has just asked her the route to Pilot Grove, Missouri. From her special book she finds it and flashes back... "MX Kansas City, TC Boonville."

2. When the call is answered, thousands of miles away, the operator placing the call slips her "toll ticket" into this device... known as a calculagraph. When you begin talking, she moves a lever to stamp the time on the ticket. When you hang up, a signal tells her to stamp it again... thus recording the length of your call.

3. Your call's roadway, to Pilot Grove—or anywhere—is kept open in this Traffic Control Center. Should major trouble occur on one route, the Center must find another to carry the calls. This is just part of our service job... making it possible for you to call across town, or across country, when you wish, as often as you wish.

4. When you make a telephone call, you hire a mighty servant to work for you at small cost. And that servant is more useful than ever. In the past ten years, the number of telephones on the Coast has about doubled. We're hard at it to provide more and better service for more people. And each new telephone added makes every telephone that much more valuable.

Why California uses more rural electricity than all the other 47 States combined

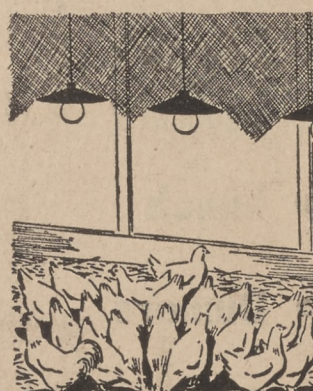

The wide, rich valleys of California produce fruit and vegetables, grain and cattle, throughout the year... thanks to electric power. Irrigation is the most important of the many uses of electricity in rural California where more than half the nation's rural power is at work. Farm electricity is made possible by P. G. and E.'s liberal policy of stringing lines into farm areas... by P. G. and E.'s rural electric rates, among the lowest in the nation... by P. G. and E.'s vast interconnected power network.

Horsepower meant just that not many years ago. For pumping was done by windmill or with animal power. It was primitive, inadequate. Then electric horsepower came to the valleys. And richness came to the dry summer fields of California.

More eggs today... with lighted chicken houses. Dairies milk with electricity. Rural power grinds feed, dries hay, runs electric tools. Cheap electric power means more wealth for both farms and cities in Northern and Central California.

California farms are 96% electrified... highest percentage in the nation.

234,000 of this new horsepower already is in service.

Beautiful Orinda Hills a Sight From the Air

Carl Sammons, the famous artist, once asked a flyer of almost around-the-world experience what place he thought looked the most beautiful from the air. The flyer answered, "First in beauty, the Isle of Capri, and second the Orinda hills!" Of these same hills Sammons has made many beautiful pictures.

Public Meetings On J. C. Proposal

Public meetings have been held in Brentwood, Crockett, Knightsen, Byron, Oakley and Lone Tree on the proposed junior college district. The response of the interested voters is strong and the issue is popular, according to the office of the county schools.

The recommendation of the survey committee that there be two college campuses under one administration met with much favorable comment. This proposal calls for a campus to be located near the population center in the west end of the county and a second campus located centrally in the east end of the county. It was stressed that these are only proposals by the local survey committee, however.

lish, photography, and citizenship. Requests for establishment of these and any other courses will be welcomed at the superintendent's office at the Acalanes union high school; telephone Walnut Creek 4616. A minimum enrollment of 15 students is required to maintain any class. Sole cost to the student is a one-dollar registration fee for each course.

1948 Acalanes Enrollment Shows Increase of 14 Per Cent Over 1947

Showing an increase over last year of no less than 14 per cent, Acalanes union high school's enrollment on the opening day of the 1948-1949 school year totaled a record 810 students.

The new mark is higher than that of the comparable date last year by approximately 100 students. Enrollment is expected to reach its peak early next week at about 830 students, Neil M. Parsons, district superintendent, predicts.

As the unprecedented—but anticipated—flood of students converged on the modern white school house, construction of the needed additional housing facilities was being speeded. The new classroom wing and the new shop unit, started last June, are expected to be ready about November 1, Parsons said.

EMERGENCY ROOMS Meanwhile, three teachers set up shop in emergency "classrooms": two in the gymnasium-auditorium and one, fresh-air style, in the cafeteria patio.

The booming student population reflects the general growth of the area, Parsons observed, pointing out that there are 110 new enrollees to the district. The school district includes the communities of Canyon, Moraga, Lafayette, Orinda, and Walnut Creek.

FACULTY ENLARGED Meeting the new demand, the faculty likewise has been increased by six.

So that more physical-education facilities may be available as soon as possible, the school board met Tuesday to award the contract for conversion of the present shop building to a girls' gymnasium and auxiliary lunch room. This cannot be undertaken until the shop activities are moved to the new building now under construction.

Your Garden IN LAFAYETTE AND ORINDA

BY
CONSTANCE HANSEN

Flowering vines always attract attention in the garden because they're so prodigal with their bloom. There are several hardy ones which bloom in the late summer months, several of which are seldom seen, but very worthwhile.

The Chilean pasmine, or Mandevilla, especially is admired by garden visitors. The large white flowers are borne in clusters and are very fragrant, particularly at night. It is a vigorous, fat-growing vine, and is hardy to any frost we may have in this region, once it is past the seedling stage. It likes sun to bloom well, but will do all right where it gets sun half a day.

It loses its leaves in winter, and may be pruned back to the main trunk and a few strong branches like a grape vine. This keeps it from forming a heavy mat of dead twigs in the center of the vine, and makes pest control easy, since it can be sprayed thoroughly with a dormant spray during the winter for scale and other pests. The seed-pods which follow the flowers are odd affairs, coming two together, like foot-long, slim beans in pairs united at stem and tip ends. They grow rather easily from seed, but take two or three years to bloom.

Another attractive summer-flowering vine with smaller fragrant white flowers in clusters, and a still less familiar one, is the silk vine, or Araujia. Some people call it the swan vine, because the large pods with stem attached look like pale green swans. This vine is quite hardy, with the added attraction of being evergreen.

It is another fast grower, sometimes blooming the first year from seed. One plant I know of is just two years old, has climbed over ten feet, and is full of flowers. Both this vine and the Chilean jasmine must be watched for aphids, but one or two applications of a nicotine spray are usually enough to get rid of them.

TINY WHITE FLOWERS

The silver lace vine, Polygonum auberti, is another deciduous white-flowered one, but the flowers are tiny. It is very hardy, and a good plant to use for covering a fence or chicken coop. I have one on the back of the house, but from the way the little flowers are shed all over the patio for weeks at a time, I think it would be more suitable away from the house. It also can be pruned like a grape vine in winter.

Three other fall-blooming vines on my list have flowers in some shade of orange. Last year I saw for the first time plants of the trumpet vine, Campsis grandiflora, and was quite smitten with it. It has very glossy yellowish green leaves, and the flowers when first open are a difficult color to describe, sort of a light reddish or pinkish orange, fading to orange yellow when older.

This is a good vine to plant against a brick wall or broad chimney, since it climbs by little "feet" like the ivy, gluing itself tight to the wall. The other vines mentioned above all climb by twining around any available support, and can be trained where they are to go with wires or strong string. Once started they climb on their own stems.

SHELTERED GARDENS

Campsis grandiflora is deciduous, being bare over winter, but its relative Bignonia cherere, with dark leathery leaves and deeper orange flowers is evergreen. The frost may burn the leaves where the temperature falls below twenty degrees, so it is best for the more sheltered, or hillside gardens. However, it leafs out again after being frost-bitten.

For the gardener who likes to have something different in his garden, and who doesn't mind giving a little extra attention to watering and fertilizing, there is the Bomarea, another vine with reddish orange flowers, but this one is like a climbing lily.

It is closely related to the Alstroemerias, or Peruvian lilies, and likes to grow up through a tree, where it shows its large flower clusters out over the ends of the branches, like huge bunches of fire-crackers. They prefer shade, and while the stems die

Barbershoppers To Wear Uniform

The Orinda Barber Shop Quartet is practicing for a performance at the rally at St. Mary's College the night before the St. Mary's football game on October 1.

The Barbershoppers have been getting so many calls for performances that they have placed an order in the East for a uniform jacket for each singer. The jacket will be grey trimmed with wine. The men will wear dark trousers and matching ties.

"With these new outfits we will look so pretty that we can make more mistakes and get by," Mike Murphy said.

down in winter, new sprouts come up each spring from the fleshy roots. They are twining vines, and need either string, small stakes or a handy tree branch to start climbing on. There is a wonderful specimen of this Bomarea growing and blooming now in the arboretum in Golden Gate Park, where it is a favorite with the humming birds.

Observe all traffic signs and drive much longer.

Mrs. K. Tomme To Direct Choir

Mrs. Kennon Tomme will be the new Director of the Orinda Community Church choir, according to announcement of the Board of Trustees Monday night.

Mrs. Tomme has had a musical career from the age of nine, and is the master of several instruments including the pipe organ. Direction of choruses and choirs has been a prominent part of her training and experience.

Mrs. Tomme served as musical director of the armed forces radio station in Tokyo. It was there that she met and was married to the Rev. Mr. Tomme, who was an army chaplain, and is now studying at the Pacific School of Religion in Berkeley.

In addition to the direction of the church's adult choir, the new leader will head the formation of a junior choir enrolling both boys and girls of grammar school age. Mrs. C. P. Baker, the organist of the Orinda church, will work closely with Mrs. Tomme in both these groups.

Two-Week Motor Trip to Vancouver

Frank and Dee Hight have just returned from a wonderful two weeks motor trip to Vancouver and Victoria covering 3600 miles. These miles were not all highway miles for Frank with true pioneering and prospecting instinct loves to leave the paved ways for back country roads and lanes regardless of their narrowness, and dust and ruts.

August proved to be an unusually rainy period, but the freshness and greenness of the countryside was compensation for the absence of much sunshine. They took the boat at Anacortes for Victoria going around the San Juan Islands. In Victoria they stopped at the Empress Hotel. This hotel and the House of Parliament, and the fountain in front of the Parliament building were most beautifully illuminated at night.

They were fascinated with the spring like beauty of the Butchart Gardens where they happened to run across the Stanley Hudds also vacationing in the North. Along the Beach Drive they saw some of Victoria's finest mansions and estates. The stores in Victoria were doing a huge tourist business in spite of much higher prices than formerly.

In Vancouver after enjoying its shops, public buildings and parks, they went on the White Cliff drive viewing beautiful rugged and rocky formations and also stretches through woods abounding in flowers and ferns. They found the Mt. Hood Loop highway one of the most beautiful ones on their trip.

At Bonneville Dam the salmon were running. It was a most interesting experience to watch this and to see the women in their platform shelters built out over the rushing waters counting the salmon as they wriggled and struggled up the ladders provided for their ascent up the falls.

One of their other experiences was a ten minute ferry accommodating only six cars from Gambel to Remington and on over narrow roads, fording creeks, and through tucked-away small towns. In much of this country they saw logging operations going on in full blast.

This was true also all along the rough route from the Redwood Highway to Fort Bragg. Old abandoned homes were occupied again by loggers and mill workers. Finally through the Russian River country and the Marin peninsula, they found themselves back in Orinda.

An informal reception was held at the Hotel Claremont following a brunch for the families of the bride and groom.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Callaway of Modesto. Following a honeymoon in Carmel and Santa Barbara, the couple will reside in Berkeley.
